Reflecting on the years he spent in Stalin's labour camps, Alexander Solzhenitsyn has this to say:
"I learnt one great lessons from my years in prison camps. I learnt how a person becomes evil, and how he becomes good. Gradually I came to realise that the line that separates good from evil passes, not between states, or between classes, or between political parties, but right through every human heart. Even in hearts that are overwhelmed by evil one small bridgehead of good is retained. And in the best of all hearts, there remains an unuprooted small corner of evil."
